Laura A. Wilkinson
Partner
Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP

Laura A. Wilkinson is an Antitrust Partner at Weil, Gotshal & Manges with a practice focusing on mergers and acquisitions. She has served as lead antitrust counsel for numerous multi-billion dollar transactions and successfully obtained merger clearance for clients such as Johnson & Johnson, ExxonMobil, Kinder Morgan, Sherwin-Williams, Panasonic and Providence Equity Partners.

Prior to entering private practice, she served as a Deputy Assistant Director of the Federal Trade Commission, overseeing merger enforcement in a variety of industries. Her significant law firm and government experience enable her to effectively advocate on behalf of clients to obtain antitrust/competition approvals for M&A transactions in the US and globally.

Ms. Wilkinson received JD and MBA degrees from Cornell University, and a BA from the University of Pennsylvania. She has written extensively on antitrust issues, and received a Burton Award for excellence in legal writing.

She serves on Weil's Pan-Affinity Group Council and Taskforce on Women's Engagement and Retention. She also serves on the board of trustees for Cornell University, the board of directors for Legal Momentum - the Women's Legal Defense and Education Fund, and the international leadership team for Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc.
